STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

Will Not Be Demanded Just Yet By the Anti-Saloon League.

Brice Goldsborough, of Georgetown, one of the field workers of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, conferred at Frankfort, July 14, with Rev. M. B. Adams, who was recently appointed chairman of Legislative Committee of the Anti-Saloon League at a meeting of the headquarters committee in Louisville. Mr. Goldsborough said that he and Dr. Adams conferred concerning the campaign to be waged before the next General Assembly for passage of an act extending the provision of the County Unit Bill. According to Mr. Goldsborough the Anti-Saloon League has decided to make no fight for a State-wide prohibition bill at the coming session of the General Assembly. He said:

"We will center our fight solely for the extension of the County Unit Bill. We understand that the Prohibition party, the Women's Christian Temperance Union and like bodies will make a fight for State-wide prohibition, but it will be separate and distinct from our campaign. Between the two we may be able to force the liquor men to give us a compromise that will be satisfactory in the shape of an extended county unit bill. We believe with an extended county unit bill we will carry every county in the State dry with the possible exception of five, and may be able to carry all but two of them. We have no hopes of ever carrying Jefferson or Fayette dry, until there is a State-wide prohibition law."

In regard to the prospect of State-wide prohibition driving out the Kentucky manufacturers only to have liquor shipped in whenever desired from the border States, Mr. Goldsborough admitted that this would be unjust to the Kentucky people, but said that another bill is pending before Congress to prevent the interstate shipments, and the Anti-Saloon leaders have hopes of it passing next time.

An Easy Method for Sprinkling.

Sprinkling clothes can be made easy by the following method: Take the tin top of a baking powder can and make tiny holes in it with a tack. Fill the can with water and adjust the lid. Only a few holes should be made, and these should be small.

RIVAL TOBACCO POOLS.

Clash Between Equity and Burley Societies.

Alleged admissions by leading members of the Burley Tobacco Society have caused it to be widely rumored that the American Society of Equity in Kentucky and the Burley Tobacco Society are on the verge of open war, and if the conflict comes the leaders respectively of the two armies will be J. Campbell Cantrill, Congressman from this district and president of the Kentucky branch of the Society of Equity, and Clarence Lebus, president of the Burley Society, who led the Burley forces to victory in its conflict with the American Tobacco Company.

If war is declared the first step will be an effort of the Society of Equity to organize a rival pool to that of the Burley Society, the movement for which is just being launched. The question, which is likely to be soon put before the tobacco growers of the white Burley tobacco district is, will the 1909 Burley tobacco crop be pooled by the Burley Tobacco Society or by the American Society of Equity?

GROWING FRICITION.

Friction has been growing between the two organizations for some time. The Burley Society has announced its plan for a 1909 pool. This is being assailed and a pool under the Society of Equity is openly urged. The Society of Equity, through the parent and patron of the Burley Society, has, since the successful pools of 1907, been rather overshadowed by its offspring.

REFUSED TO DIVIDE FUNDS.

It is said this spring, after the pooled tobacco of the Burley Society had been nearly all paid for, the American Society of Equity asked the Burley Tobacco Society for $20,000 for the support of its organization. This was declined on the ground that the society had no right to make such a contribution.

Later a request was made for $10,000 and turned down on the same ground. An effort, it is reported, was then made to negotiate a loan from the Burley Society, but the officers held that the society would not loan its funds, no matter what collateral was offered.

BE MIRTHFUL

AT MEAL-TIME.

Anger or Pain Not Good for Digestion, Says Mrs. Evans.

The emotions of anger or pain check the flow of gastric juice and interfere with the digestion of one's food, consequently there should be nothing but cheerfulness at the table. The parent who attempts to discipline his children at this time is making a serious mistake; likewise the wife who makes meal time an opportunity for driving home a certain lecture. At dinner or breakfast she usually has ample time to give expression to what she has on her mind, but better no meal at all as far as nourishment and health are concerned, than food eaten in the bitterness of spirit. It may be difficult to shut out from meal time the discussion of disagreeable or perplexing problems, but it is imperative if one would secure the best results from the food one eats.

Laughter and good will, on the other hand, are vigorous promoters of the digestive functions. The court jester was probably a valuable piece of dining-room furniture in olden times, and a good-natured and cheerful guest who keeps up a lively and entertaining conversation at the table does more to aid digestion than all the nostrums ever invented.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound. 52-4t.

Revokes License.

Mayor John Skain, of Lexington, Wednesday revoked the saloon license of Claude North, doing business at Corral and Deweese streets, on evidence that he had sold liquor there Sunday, in violation of the Sunday closing law.

In his official revocation Mayor Skain set an unprecedented order by making it in the future the rule that in order to receive license again after having a license revoked, the applicant must have a certificate from the Chief of Police and from the Ways and Means Committee that he is an orderly and upright person who desires to obey the law and that there is no objection to his license being reissued.

If this order is obeyed to the letter, the opening up of saloons for business on Sunday will be a thing of the past, for it will particularly be an impossibility to get license reissued after revocation.

Cure For Limberneck.

Mrs. G. A. Beasley, Trenton, Ky., says: "I had fine success in treating my fowls for Limberneck and Cholera with Bourbon Poultry Cure. I gave them the medicine in both drinking water and food. I like this remedy fine." For sale by W. S. Lloyd.

Wife Desertion A Felony.

A bill is to be introduced in the next Legislature making wife and family desertion a penitentiary offense. The proposition strikes us as a good one, and will no doubt go far to stop an evil that has long worked a great hardship on helpless women and children of the State. No punishment is too severe for the brute who deserts his wife and dependent ones when they most need his assistance, and a law similar to the one suggested will no doubt be passed.—Cadiz Telephone.

Smithers—Why were you crying in your sleep last night, dear? Mrs. S.—I dreamed that I was peeling onions.

IMPORTANT.

Tax Commission Meeting to Which Farmers and Others Are Invited.

The Tax Commission and Advisory Board of the State will meet in our city on Friday, July 23. Farmers are especially invited. The Commission desires that our people ask questions, make speeches or read papers on any of these subjects:

Agriculture, Real Estate, (in Cities), Mining and Lumber, Mercantile, Manufacture, Financial, Corporations, Personality, Retail Merchants of Kentucky, Other Interests, General Discussion.

JAMES BREATHTITT, Chairman Tax Commission. THOMAS A. COMBS, Ch'm Advisory Commission. W. B. O'CONNELL, Sec'y., Frankfort, Ky.

A Few of the Things Parents Should Teach Their Children.

To be true to their word and their work.

To face all difficulties with courage and cheerfulness.

To form no friendships that can bring them into degrading associations.

To respect other people's convictions and not to continually air their own.

To reverence womanhood, but not to be deceived by the petty tricks of womankind.

To live a clean life in thought as well as word and deed.

To remember that true manliness always commands success.

That the best things in life cannot be bought with money.

That to command—they must first learn to obey.

That there can be no compromise between honesty and dishonesty.

"Yes," the tramp was saying, "it was a fine house and lawn. So I walks in, gets down on my knees and hands and begins chewing the grass. Out comes a lady, as purty and kind-looking as I ever seed, and she asks me what I'm doing."

"I haven't had any grub for days and days, liddy," says I, "and have got to eat grass to live."

"My pore man," she says, "Come on around in the back yard. The grass is longer there."

Josh Wise Says: "When a middle-aged man follows it into somebody else's business."

Answer This Question.

The Maysville Ledger says: There are more than 1,000,000 boys and girls in the United States who are working when they ought to be at school or out in the fresh air. This terrible fact was revealed to the National Association of Charities and Corrections in convention at Buffalo.

Why didn't the Ledger pursue its statistical research a little further and tell how many of the fathers of these boys and girls have forced their children to work instead of secure an education by their drunken habits? It would be quite interesting, don't you know.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

The Bride's Decalogue.

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's cook book, but borrow thy mother-in-law's.

Thou shalt not offer love as the main course in thy meal, but serve it as dessert.

Thou shalt not insult thy good range by wearing in its presence a vulgar kimono while you get breakfast.

Thou shalt not ill behave toward thy garbage man nor thy janitor or thou shalt suffer sorely.

Thou shalt not concoct, organize, promulgate or tolerate a mess called fudge.

Thou shalt not temporize with fate by manufacturing sudden biscuits.

Thou shalt not batter thy husband's skull with a potato masher—or words.

Thou shalt not be reckless with the sacred dough and waste it by careless burning.

Thou shalt not fry a steak in diabolical grease, but early learn to broil it.

Thou shalt not ever deny that thy husband's knowledge of the culinary art is vastly superior to thy own.

Don't Worry; It Makes One Thin.

No amount of medicines, food or exercise will build up to the normal the body of the man or woman who persists in worrying or in the mental habits of anger, enmity, envy, fear, &c.

The mental attitude must be one of calm and relaxation. Thin people who wish to round out their contours should never worry or grow excited, but keep calm and quiet, and an improvement will soon be noticed in their weight.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it. 52-4t.

He—Is that girl next door practicing a Desarte lesson? She—Either that or she's got a bug down her back.

Commissioner Appointed.

Judge Charles R. McDowell, of Danville, has been appointed by Governor Willson as the Democratic member of the State Election Commission.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all dealers. 52-4t.

REST MADE EASY.

There Will Be Less Sleeplessness When Mt. Sterling People Learn This.

Can't rest at night with a bad back. A lame, a weak or an aching one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad backs. They cure every form of kidney ills. From common backache to diabetes. They are endorsed by Mt. Sterling people.

Mrs. Garfield Perkins, 60 Richmond Avenue, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I have given Doan's Kidney Pills a thorough trial and can recommend them highly. I suffered from a severe backache and an ache through my hips and loins. I was annoyed a great deal by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions, was very nervous and had hot and cold flashes. Doan's Kidney Pills proved of great value to me and I never tire of praising them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 22-2t.

Friend—What do you raise in your garden? Suburbanite—Say, man, do you expect me to know the name of every weed that grows?

Mrs. Brown: You remember you told me if I left my table cloth out doors all night the fruit stains would disappear. Well, I've tried it.

Mrs. Jones: And they disappeared?

Mrs. Brown: I don't know, but the table cloth did.

Surprised Him.

F. A. Estes, Wyandotte, Ky., says: "My boys were so sick they could not eat and they were all scouring very badly. I gave them Doan's Kidney Pills. Remarkably and to my surprise it cured them without a loss." For sale by W. S. Lloyd.

One nice thing about knowing a lot of girls is that it's easy to get your souvenir postal card album filled with pretty pictures of the surrounding towns.

Save up old newspapers, soak them in water, throw them on the carpet and sweep with a stiff broom. The paper will gather up the dust and brighten the carpet.

Harm Done by Wrong Food. A New York skin specialist says: "I had to choose between the cook and the apothecary as a collaborator. I think I would not hesitate for a moment to yoke myself with the former." He goes on to say that "the board kills more than the sword." Many people eat not only the wrong foods, but too much of them.

FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS.

Sights Up On Big Sandy--Prospects for a Great Future.

PROGRESSIVE TOWNS IN DRY COLUMN.

On Tuesday evening, July 13, the writer left at 9:48 and arrived at Ashland 90 miles distance before 1 o'clock, too late to take in the sights of this attractive and hustling and "dry" town, so we sought rest and visions in sleep.

At 6 o'clock a. m. we boarded the train for Hellier, (134 miles distant) and intermediate points. The first amusing incident occurred on this wise: In front of us sat a young woman under a wide hat and beside her a young man. She arose to place her hat in the rack. In her effort to make the less contain the greater she dropped the aggregation of straw in our lap. She begged our pardon. Of course we let her have it. She tried again, saying, "I'll just make it go in." By this time the experience was getting interesting. Her companion smiled as she said "I'll make it go in." We looked up and said, I want to see that operation. Again she failed. Then the young man carried the expansion of milliners' art to the end of the car and stood on the seat.

Editors sometimes have a way of diagnosing troubles not peculiar to their trade. Our eyesight is somewhat impaired, but as near as we could judge, measures of the dimensions of that hat were: Crown 11 inches, crown with rim 21.37 inches. She was in style and pursued her journey bear-headed.

Our first stop was at Prestonsburg. Circuit Court was in session and the civil docket was being tried. We asked Commonwealth Attorney May about convictions. He said the jail was stacked full. Since our visit last year the Bank Josephine has moved into its elegant new quarters. It's up-to-date in architecture and furnishings and courteous officers, and we presume in financial stability. We did not think to get its statement. The bridge is "a good mine" will pay for itself in about five years--toll 5 cents for footmen--if ladies are passed free we did not hear of it. We did not have time to discuss politics with our friend F. A. Hopkins and others.

PIKEVILLE.

We spent Wednesday and Thursday nights and till noon Friday. Thursday we were in Hellier an intervening point. The institute was in session at Pikeville. There are over 150 school districts in the county; and more than that many teachers. We failed to meet the County Superintendent. We asked some teachers how many pupils were in the county. None knew definitely. Our conclusion was about 10,000. The public entertainment in Courthouse in the evening attracted much attention. We entered the room for a few minutes while institute was in session. There appeared to be more male than female teachers.

PAINTSVILLE.

We left Pikeville at 12:30 Friday for Paintsville and stayed till next morning. Here we met Mr. and Mrs. Finley Fogg and children, who are now residents of Paintsville. Mrs. Fogg and children had arrived on Monday. Our friend Fogg is now with John C. Mayo and associates. GREAT enterprises are in processes of development.

Coal is to be King in the Sandy Valley, and Paintsville is the center. Later we will be in position to speak more definitely about mines, railroads, coke ovens, etc. One man said that at one plant on Millers Creek (across the river and near town) 1,000 houses will be built. This is not authoritative. Fogg is located in the Paint-be completed. Let Mr. Sterling have take notice of this.

ASHLAND AND CATLETTSBURG.

The recent local option election comes to mind. Ashland voted dry by over 100. Catlettsburg went by 22. On 1st of July 26 saloons closed their doors. We arrived in Ashland in time for supper. After our refreshment we decided to see the towns. We had heard that prohibition kills a town. We decided to see how Ashland and Catlettsburg were doing in 17 days. In the few hours at our disposal we must limit our investigation. We decided to examine hotel registers for the first ten days in June and ten days in July. Here is the result by count at the two leading hotels in each town:

| ASHLAND--TRAVELERS INN.                                 |  |
|---|--|
| June 1-10, wet, 137; July 1-10, dry, 181; a gain of 44. |  |

| VENTURA.   |  |
|--|--|
| June 1-10, wet, 418; July 1-10, dry, 377; a loss of 41. A net gain of 3 for Ashland. |  |

| CATLETTSBURG--SHIVLEY.                                 |  |
|--|--|
| Wet June 1-10, 135; wet July 1-10, 259; a gain of 124. |  |

| ALBION.   |  |
| Wet June 1-10, 202; wet July 1-10, 263; a gain of 61. A net gain of 185 for Catlettsburg. |  |

AT ONE of the hotels in Catlettsburg we observed something which may be customary at hotels, but to us was rather odd. As we scanned the register for July we noticed the frequent recurrence of a m. s. s. Closer investigation showed that for each day in July from the 1st to and including the 17th (the day we were there) from 7 to 9 names were registered in uniform order and assigned to the same room from night to night. There was some of this in June. We do not know why such entries were made.

In Ashland we met a friend after dark. He suggested that we see the Police Judge. We went to City Building. A policeman said the Judge was out and that we would be apt to find him at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Enroute to Catlettsburg the car was jammed, many ladies and gentlemen stopping at Clydeside Park, a very attractive and popular resort.

In town we made above investigation, and spent several minutes talking with D. H. Carpenter in his big department store. He also owns the electric light plant which supplies the entire city. He said that in recent election 93 per cent. of the business men were opposed to local option. Observe that they won by only 22. True but suggestive. He is a very pleasant gentleman.

We continued our tour. In the saloon district we saw from the pavement sad sights. We had read of the bog that is washed returning to his wallowing in the mire, etc.

A young man a bartender extended a very cordial invitation to us to enter his saloon and to place future orders with his house. We replied that we did not wish anything this evening, thanked him for his courtesy and told him that his display in the window was very attractive. We were not on a mashing or lecturing tour. We were peaceably studying life as it is and noting facts for observations. On this trip we observed many events, heard and saw much that we cannot relate for lack of time. We are not a short-hand reporter and do use a typewriter. We will go again.

We are opposed to the U. S. Government, State, county and town partnership in the liquor business. We think with the thoughtless who plead with the voter who endorses it; we lament the fate of the man who sells it, and the victim who dies by it; we discredit the business sagacity of the business man who for revenue advocates it.

Just before the clock struck 11 we were talking to two policemen on the street in Ashland. The door of a barber shop closed at 11 while we were in the chair. On Sunday morning we were called at 4 o'clock to take early train for home to meet our engagement with the Women's Bible Class and for other privileges and honors of the Lord's day and to take up for another week the strenuous life of a country editor.

Resents Lash With Death Stroke.

The system of flogging which is still used as a means of punishment in the so-called disciplinary battalions of the Russian army, led to a tragedy Sunday. A soldier was condemned to fifty lashes for stealing. After the first few blows, with blood streaming from his shoulders, the man begged to be released. This was refused and he wrenched himself free, at the same time drawing a concealed knife. He leaped upon the supervising officer, Capt. Kavalerosky, and stabbed him to death. Then he slashed two soldiers, who attempted to seize him, and then buried the knife in his own breast.

Notice.

All persons having claims against the estate of Ab Hall, deceased, are hereby notified to present same to me, proven as required by law, or to file same with R. G. Kern, my attorney. Persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate are requested to call and settle. 52-31 REX HALL, Administrator of Ab Hall.

Pavement Completed.

The much needed pavement from the railroad crossing on Locust street to Macphail cemetery has been completed. The pavement is of stone and was built by the City Council and various lodges of the city and is a great public improvement, as it now gives the citizens a chance for the first time since the cemetery was opened of reaching it without wading in the mud and slush. The C. & O. built along its front.

Have your pictures framed at White's drug store. 52-11.

PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTERS OF THE PLAYGROUNDS.

"E-ee-eyo! Feller! A Fight!" is the Slogan That Will Draw the Crowd Even from the Delights of Baseball.

There probably isn't a school in the country in which there doesn't arise each day some cause for a fight. If it isn't in one class it is in another, and it is the strictly proper thing to pull the fight off in the noon hour. After three o'clock baseball is in order, and as that has fights of its own a mere school fight would interfere. So you know it's come when you see a crowd of boys swarming and hear shrill cries of:

"He said--'You darsent--' 'I didn't neither say--' 'Well, go ahead and say--' 'You're a liar--' 'You're another--' 'So are you!' 'Back it up!' 'Yes, I will!' 'Will yer?' 'Yes, I will!' 'Come on!' 'E-ee-eyo! Feller! A fight!'

It always starts that way, and sometimes it is severe enough for all concerned to get up an extra appetite. Of course, accidents will happen, and occasionally one boy runs into another boy's hat with such force that he gets a blinder. The giver of the blinder is a hero for some hours, but his reputation usually forces him into another fight and he is apt to lose the reputation.

But the other day a really good fight happened, though it wasn't one that was on the calendar. George Heinrich held Willie Burke responsible for the disappearance of his baseball mitt--though he found it later at home--and from accusations the thing developed through recriminations, defenses and challenges to actual warfare. The combatants had been fighting in deadly earnest and the throng of howling boys for ten minutes, and one of them had almost struck a blow when the crowd was violently parted.

Ollie Swift, aged 13, had been one of the loudest yellers and advisers, but he certainly was not expected to be so violently snore on his class button that it was nearly driven through his chest. Neither was he expected to have a hand of fingers twine in his hair and nearly pull it out. But that happened while the shrill voice of George's ten-year-old sister accused Ollie of having caused the fight and encouraged it. He tried to explain, to back away, to cover up, and do all other compromising and safety-seeking things. It was in vain. She was after him like a terrier after a frankfurter, and safety for him lay in flight, so he broke and ran.

The desperate cheers that followed him told plainly that he had forever sacrificed the esteem of that crowd. Still he didn't dare return and face her, though she had no cause to attack him in the first place.

When she had driven him from the field she broke out weeping, and half of the crowd would have been willing to swear that not only did Ollie start the fight, but that he had also attacked George's sister. The result was that in the afternoon he received a dozen challenges, and after school received two likings and gave two. For the next three days his hands were full, and it was only by desperate aggressiveness that he managed to keep from becoming the mark and butt of the whole school. The fighting hardened him and trained him, and when the other boys found that he would stand on any provocation, and on almost none, they stopped "picking" on him. In a couple of days more the matter was forgotten, and Ollie has even been seen walking home with George's sister and carrying her books.

Lingual Tests for the Children.

A London paper recently offered a series of prizes for the best "tongue twisting" sentences. The prize winning contributions are:

The black horse blighted the bright broom blossoms.

England's Woman Voters.

A return of the number of women voters in England and Wales who are qualified to vote for county councils, for county and municipal boroughs, issued today, shows that the women's franchise for county councils extends to 563,961 for England and 134,845 for Wales, making a total of 698,806. For county borough councils in England and Wales the number is 265,862, and for non-county borough councils there are 131,421 voters for England, 5,900 for Wales, making a total of 137,324.

Means Much for Egypt.

Oil has been struck 150 miles south of Suez, on the Red sea coast, the gusher giving increasing quantities daily, and indicating large reserves. The possibility of a cheap supply of fuel is a discovery of the greatest importance to Egypt.

Prohibition Resolutions.

At a mass meeting of citizens of Flemingsburg, Fleming county, Ky., held at the Christian Church, Sunday evening, July 11, 1909, the following was passed unanimously by a rising vote:

Whereas, The liquor traffic is an unmitigated evil, having been well called, "the sum of all villainies," and

Whereas, It breeds crime and fosters anarchy and its advocates are today defying law and order in their oft-repeated assertion that "prohibition will not prohibit." Therefore be it resolved by this mass meeting of law-abiding citizens:

First. That we favor and endorse the movement for State-wide Prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in Kentucky.

Second. That we also approve and recommend the State-wide Prohibition Chautauqua, having been favored with a session of the same in our midst July 6-11.

Third. Resolved further that we most heartily and earnestly protest against and condemn the action of the Louisville Board of Trade and Commercial Club in their resolutions against Prohibition and favoring the cruel, breeding, liquor traffic. The sober, God-fearing, home-loving people of Kentucky do not join these bodies in inviting the liquor parasites that have been run out of other States into Kentucky. We do not need or want them.

Fourth. Resolved that copies of these resolutions be sent to the papers of Louisville and of our own county with the request that they be published.

Tyler Becomes

Expert Accountant.

Mr. J. O. Tyler has been made happy by the receipt of a letter from Joel Hunter, chairman of the Georgia State Board of Examiners of Public accountants, that notified him that he had successfully passed the State examination for public expert accountant held at Atlanta May 25th and 26th.

Mr. Tyler has since received his C. P. A. certificate which is No. 23, signed by the Board of Examiners and Gov. Hoke Smith, June 25th, 1909. This certificate entitles Mr. Tyler to practice in the State of Georgia as a certified public accountant, and no use the abbreviation C. P. A., after his name signifying the same. He is not only the fourth to hold such certificate by examination but probably the youngest C. P. A. in this State.

He has been preparing for this examination for over a year by studying at night and at odd times and his friends are congratulating him heartily on this success.

Mr. Tyler is connected with the First National Bank, having been with the bank since its consolidation, and with the Citizens National Bank before that time.--The Albany Herald, July 16.

Mr. Tyler is the son of W. T. Tyler and wife, of our city, and his friends are pleased to hear of his promotion.

Thomas L. Hiscgen, late candidate for President on the Independence League ticket, says the Independence party is a "dead end," and he will hereafter affiliate with the Democratic party.

Newsway's Wooden Churches.

Some of the wooden churches of Norway are fully 700 years old and are still in an excellent state of preservation. Their timbers have successfully resisted the frost and almost arctic winters because they have been repeatedly coated with tar.

INDIVIDUAL FARMS

Will Be Given Unequalled Opportunities at the Great

Blue Grass Fair.

CONDITIONS FOR EXHIBITS

All Kentucky Farmers Eligible to Exhibit Under Simple Conditions Set Out Below—Do Not Forget That Entries Close Monday, August 2.

In order to stimulate interest in improved agriculture and to offer opportunity to show to the world the character of farm products grown in this section, the Blue Grass Fair, to be held at Lexington the week of August 9-14, has framed conditions for the following exhibit, which should be one of its most attractive and beneficial features. Exhibit of products from individual farms, not less than six from appended list, to be shown, all to be grown by exhibitor, $100, divided into four premiums—$50, $25, $15, $10.

From the following list the exhibitor is to choose not less than six products of his own farm to be shown, and it is also understood that exhibitor may show as many more than six as he may desire:

Barley Tobacco—One plant of green tobacco in pot or cut.
Hemp—Three-strand bundle.
Corn in Stalk—Six stalks.
Sorghum in Stalk—Six stalks.
Wheat in Stalk—Two-inch bundle.
Oats in Stalk—Two-inch bundle.
Rye in Stalk—Two-inch bundle.
Barley in Stalk—Two-inch bundle.
Alfalfa—Two-inch bundle.
Red Clover—Two-inch bundle.
Alsike—Two-inch bundle.
Crimson Clover—Two-inch bundle.
Soy Beans—Two-inch bundle.
Peas—Two-inch bundle.
Peas in Grass—Two-inch bundle.
Timothy—Two-inch bundle.
Orchard Grass—Two-inch bundle.
German Millet—Two-inch bundle.
Potatoes—Selection of six, any named variety.

The exhibits will be judged by points on the following basis: Quality, 60 points; diversity and commercial value, 25 points; arrangement, 15 points.

Where grains are exhibited in the bundle, the judge will consider both quality and quantity. All samples of grains must be correctly named as to variety. Tags to so designate them will be supplied by the superintendent in charge.

Each exhibit must be arranged so as not to occupy more than five feet of wall space. It is suggested that all exhibits of small grains, grasses and legumes be attached to a stand in this way a much more effective display can be secured.

In the case of tobacco it is suggested that plants intended for exhibit be grown in pots, though cut tobacco may also be shown.

Where an exhibitor grows both corn and sorghum, he may, if he so desires, show a bundle of each and have same count as two of the six articles required to permit his exhibit. The phrase, "two-inch bundle," used to designate quantity to be shown means two inches in diameter where tied.

All exhibits will be marked by number tags alone, and no names of exhibitors shall in any case be attached nor shall there be any designation used whereby the identity of exhibitors may be ascertained after awards are made.

Exhibitors from any county in Kentucky will be eligible to compete. Entries close Monday, Aug. 2, at 6 o'clock p. m., and no entry will be accepted thereafter.

All exhibits must be placed not later than 6 o'clock p. m. of Saturday, Aug. 2, and no exhibit that is not in place and complete at that time shall be eligible to compete.

Prof. H. Garman of the Kentucky Experiment Station will act as judge. Entries close Monday, Aug. 2, at 6 o'clock p. m., and no entry will be accepted thereafter.

The standing committee for the department consists of Mr. C. E. Marvin, chairman; Prof. W. Matthews, Dr. R. H. Halley, Prof. George Roberts, Mr. George D. Karner.

Though in no sense relating to this exhibit or coming into competition for any of the prizes offered, the management of the Blue Grass Fair is gratified to state that the Kentucky Experiment Station will make a display at the fair on the lower floor of the Florsheim Hall, where this exhibit will be held. The display will be taken principally from the department of Prof. H. Garman, and will not only include a large number of samples of crops grown on the Experiment Station farm, but will also attempt to set forth intelligently the insect pests which are marked destroyers of farm crops grown in Central Kentucky and which can be successfully combated by farmers who use improved methods recommended by the Experiment Station.

As in past years, the Blue Grass Fair will continue both day and night during the week of August 9th to 14th. The evening, beginning at 7:30, a concert will be given, the full program of free acts will follow, and the large aggregation of shows will be open.

DANCING THE KOLO

PART OF NATIONAL FESTIVAL OF MONTENEGRO.

Effect Is Fought by Witness to Be Fine—Stern Fighting Men Occasional—Find Leisure for the Pastime.

The national dance of Montenegro is the kolo, somewhat similar to the horo of Bulgaria. Both dances take part, crossing hands and forming an unbroken circle. The music they supply themselves, each end of the horn alternately singing a verse in honor of the prince and his warlike deeds.

The kolo is always danced at any great national festival, and the effect of the solemn voices and swaying ring is very fine. Then there is another dance performed by four or five, usually youths, to the accompaniment of a fiddle, the leader setting a lot of intricate quick steps which the rest imitate at once. It is really a sort of a fiddle and makes the spectator's head swim if he watches it for long.

"I never saw any dances in northern Albania," says a writer in The Wide World, "though certain Slav artists love to depict under a sword, with beautiful maidens playing gracefully after the style of native girls, a casual observer who has seen the Albanians come into Montenegrin markets or to their great weekly gathering in the bazaar of Scutari could never picture these stern men dancing or at play."

"They never smile and they look the life they lead, each can ever ready for war with his neighbor and absolutely pitiless in the vendetta. When fighting the Turks the Montenegrins evince a heroism and utter fearlessness that is rarely equaled. The strongest men carry bombs or rather hand grenades—things the Turkish soldier particularly abominates. It was told once by a man who I knew well saved his hand from destruction. They were fairly close, and the Turks closing in, when the bomb thrower stood up and the hail of bullets, lit the fuse with his cigarette and rushed toward the soldier, he seeing his intention, promptly made tracks.

"It was of course lucky that the Mohammedan soldier, who does not much like the bomb thrower, was a little bit of a bulge, thinks his chance of eternal bliss very doubtful if he is blown up with dynamite. The nerve required to be a bomb thrower is worth a little reflection. He must absolutely expose himself, and as the fuse is very short the ignition must be coolly controlled."

"If premature it means the destruction of himself and comrades, and when it is fairly airtight the bomb must be thrown with mathematical exactitude. In other words, the man must leave his cover and charge an overwhelming force alone and not throw till he is close up to it."

Polishing a Diamond.

The polishing of a diamond is a very slow process, because of the great hardness of the stone. In the work must be frequently interrupted to allow the disk to cool after it has become overheated by friction. Each time the diamond is to be cut the diamond must be removed from the dop and reset at the angle, and the diamond cutters trust to his eye alone to guide him in this delicate adjustment, although in the case of very small diamonds a magnifying glass is necessary. The skill shown in placing the stone in the heated metal, sometimes with the bare hand, is surprising. The regular brilliants have 56 facets, the table and the girdle, 22 above the table and 24 below; but as eight facets are first formed, both above and below, each facet being reset into three or four smaller ones, there are considerably more than 56 separate surfaces to be cut.—From Dr. George Frederick Kunz's "The Two Largest Diamonds," in Century.

Humor of Henry James.

A characteristic letter of Henry James, the novelist, eight pages in length, dated Cambridge, Mass., April 13, 1879, and addressed to a reviewer of his book, "The Europeans," said it must be that I am losing in my old age the age I once excelled in, of keeping off readers. None of my books have had more than two or three readers, and these are the worst of them in my opinion, you know, have never been able, from Eve down, to judge righteous judgment. But now, evidently from your proof, my horizon is widening."

A letter of John Jay, June 12, 1871, to a fellow newspaper man, asking him to get for him a Goethe autograph, brought 82.

An Unfounded Rumor.

"Mrs. Muchmore told me," said Mrs. O'Brien, "that she had no more to do in his vestments when he officiated at your daughter's wedding."

"It ain't true," replied her hostess, "she's doing her best to get up on the back of a 790 rocking chair. We brought him over in our limousine."

Prize and a Fall.

Nora—Did Mr. Smith say to you as I entered the room last night, "Is that the beautiful Miss Watson?"

Cora—Yes, dear, with the accent on the "last."

"APPLE PIE ORDER" FOR MORE DAYLIGHT

MR. GWILLPILLIBLY ARISES TO QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Wants to Know the Origin of This Familiar Phrase—Incidentally He Chants Praises of the Real Pie.

"I know," said Mr. Gwillpillibly, "this is pretty hot weather to be asking questions, but I would like to know the origin of the phrase 'in apple pie order'; meaning, as you know, that the thing or place so characterized is in the very slickest and trimmest sort of shape, homely, perhaps, but attractive and wholesome. It originated in New England, no doubt; this use of pie as a basis of comparison seems clearly to indicate that; but how did apple pie come thus to be set up as the symbol of superior excellence?"

"I suppose it was partly because of apple pie's priority of invention, for I imagine it will be conceded that apple was the first pie; but I suppose that its continued use in this manner has been due to the apple pie's unbroken continued presence in all good pie galleries. It could not have been lost after the invention of apple pie before pumpkin pie was introduced, and since it could not have been lost, so likewise is cranberry, and 'in apple pie order' certainly could not at once have become so firmly entrenched among the commonplace native New England forms of speech as to preclude the possibility of its being supplanted by 'in pumpkin pie order,' or 'in mince pie order.' If these no much liked productions of Pilgrim ingenuity had either of them displaced apple pie from the highest pinnacle of popular esteem, it would have been a tragedy of the first order."

"But neither of them ever did, which shows to my mind incidentally not only the clearheadedness and correct taste of those sagacious early inventors of pie but also the perspicacity of their succeeding generations. 'In apple pie order' still stands as it did; it should; for of all pie apple pie is undoubtedly the best, and if we are to have a pie figure to denote excellence, that should be apple pie."

"As it is made in New England homes by New England housewives and with contents of surpassing quality, this apple pie when it has finally been made ready for eating."

"For this pie, the real apple pie of New England goes through a final glorifying process after it has been baked. When they have taken the pie from the oven and placed it on the kitchen table they deftly remove the top crust, so deftly that it is never broken nor even its edges marred, and then a delightful disk of crust has thus been removed, the spread around on the surface of the pie's filling a little fine butter, and some sugar, and a little bit of nutmeg—though I can't say I fancy the nutmeg, nor now they add sugar, and now you replace the top crust, you do so with care and tend the pie after the pie is baked. With at least some of the sweetening left to be added now you do not have a thoroughly sweetened pie, but you get still the keen taste of the apple, and you get the sweetening, too, but you blend these deftly in the eating."

"And thus prepared the apple pie is ready to eat. And it may be eaten hot, and in that condition there are few who would not prefer it, but as for myself I prefer this pie just at the moment when it has first got cool."

"Of course it will be understood that the reason for this is that the pie is now and is to be found only in homes and to be had and enjoyed at its very best only where one can get home to eat it. But in the New England homes, and some else, where, I hope, where apple pie is still so made, and though you may think the weather too hot to discuss it, that such apple pie should have been coined into a phrase signifying everything that is good is to me no wonder, it is in this pie's simple excellence, I believe, that we find the origin of 'in apple pie order.'"

Culture and Efficiency.

President Walsh of the Ohio Wesleyan university, sees the policy of college education for culture gaining faster than the idea of education for efficiency. Many think it is just the reverse. But why shouldn't the two go hand in hand?—Boston Herald.

"They certainly should, and education of the public does not ally them in some way. We shall see fewer or intellectual freight cars on the side tracks when there is a zest for efficiency inspired in our youth along with the desire for knowledge and culture."—New York Herald.

An Idealist's Purpose.

"And suppose the whole wealth were distributed among individuals as you desire, what would you do with your share?"

"I'd start a business of my own," said the socialist, "and amuse a competency that would relieve me from dependence on the precarious profits of lecturing."

Consistent Self-Interest.

"So you saved Mr. Kormidge from drowning?"

"Yes."

"Was he grateful?"

"Not at all. He claimed a half interest in the hero medal because of his presence of mind in holding for help."

FOR MORE DAYLIGHT

SIMPLE SCHEME THAT SECURES TWO ADDITIONAL HOURS.

Change in Standard of Time, While Harming Nobody, Seemingly Would Add Much to the Enjoyment of All.

If, on May 1st of each year, the standard of time throughout the United States was advanced two hours, so that what is now five o'clock became seven o'clock, etc., and changed back to our present standard on Oct. 1, it would add greatly to the health, comfort, and pleasure of all, through the summer, without necessitating any change as to daily habits, or create any more confusion than if a western man went to some point east, having at the time one or two hours faster than that to which he was accustomed, but would give two hours additional light for recreation and health-giving exercise, and the use of two of the coolest and best hours of the day for labor. Americans, in this manner, would obtain what those in England greatly enjoy today, namely, two additional hours of light.

This would leave the same number of hours of daylight and the same amount of night, and would give two better hours for the day's work, and two additional hours of daylight to the evening hours, which today are too short to be of much benefit to those living any considerable distance from their place of business, and, as the hours of business are the only portion of the week day devoted to pleasure and exercise the lengthening of same would be appreciated by all.

Nothing is more conducive to health than outdoor exercise, such as ball, tennis, golf, boating, bathing, gardening, etc., so that the real leisure hours devoted to business, sleep, and pleasure to the benefit of all.

Thousands of families would, under these circumstances, move into the country or suburbs, who are now held back by the fact that the men at the present time could not reach their homes until too late to get much benefit from a move of this kind.

As elderly persons and children are given to early rising, the breakfast hour will become more regular, and many annoyances of today will be avoided, and, during the heated term, it should prove of special benefit to the school children.

As a rule, nearly every proposed rule, law, or custom works a positive injury to humanity to many who cling together and bring about much opposition; this delays and discourages those interested. In its passage, but in its execution, no property is destroyed, depreciated, no one can be interested in opposing it, and it is one of the few changes that could be made to benefit all citizens of each and every state in exactly the same proportion, and not call for the expenditure of money by the government, state or people.

It is necessary that the law or custom become universal throughout the United States. It has no political significance, so all states and their aid to the movement. Talk it up. See that your friends thoroughly understand it. Remember that millions in England, for centuries, have been accustomed to exactly these same hours and its benefits. If you do not need these additional hours, then you are a selfish individual in claiming it for those who do.

Break Away from Work.

Our business men ought to break away from work demands long before they do—ought to do so as a matter of volition and ethical judgment, rather than of physical necessity, writes A. Barton Ross in the Century. They ought to get and give more enjoyment in life; they ought to do less for self and more for others; they ought to be more in books and more in the open and less at their desks, and realize better health and longer lives as a result. More and more culture and more culture is exercising a growing influence, which must manifest itself in lessened effort along the lines of money-getting, and the devotion of more time on the part of our business men to the pursuits which naturally accompany fortified leisure. Aristotle said "the end of labor is to gain leisure," and Aristotle was a wise man.

Large Price for Stamp.

The most ardent stamp collector would think twice before giving $4,000 for a two-cent blue Hawaiian stamp 1851-1852 with its right-hand bottom corner torn off. I trust! Nevertheless, that record price has been paid in Paris for the little red postmarked thing. But we can all be extravagant once in a while, and this valued postage stamp, in our hands, destined for a royal collector's book.

Accounting for Three Hours.

It was after five when the woman looked at the conductor on the third street line the transfer. He looked at it in a puzzled way. Then he looked at her and laughed.

"I'd start at two o'clock," he said. "Where have you been? To the matinee?"

"Ugh! hum," she said.—N. Y. Press.

Silly Accusation.

"Well, of all things," exclaimed Kloseman, "he accused me of making a lie out of the whole cloth."

"Ridiculous!" remarked Cutting. "Isn't it, though?"

"Oh, very. Evidently he doesn't know how economical you are."—Catholic Standard and Times.

DEATHS.

MAGOWAN.—Many were surprised and grieved when the message came to town on Wednesday morning of last week, July 14, 1909, that Mr. Jno. T. Magowan was dead. He was born in this county July 4th, 1834, hence had recently celebrated his 75th birthday. For many, many years he was an active, prosperous farmer, but for a few years had, on account of enfeebled health committed his business affairs to his son James. He owned a large and fine farm on the Owingsville pike near our city limits. He arose early on Wednesday morning as was his custom. Soon the summons came that called him hence; medical aid was called, but nothing could prolong the life spark and a few minutes his life's work was closed. He is survived by his wife and son; their daughter Mary a very attractive young woman, having died a few years ago. Many had received of his bounty. He was sociable, generous and sympathetic. The funeral service was held at the home on Thursday afternoon, after which many relatives and friends laid the body to rest in Machehal.

LINDSEY.—On Friday, July 2, Mrs. Jno. Lindsey, of Sturgeon, Mo., arrived in this city to visit her relatives. For a few years she has been in feeble health. Soon after arriving here she was taken seriously sick, and friends realized that she could not recover. Her husband was with her for 7 days before she died, but she was unconscious most of the time. She died on Monday morning, July 19, 1909. The funeral service was held at the home of Mrs. Young on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. H. D. Clark and the burial was in Machehal.

Mrs. Lindsey was the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Tipton, of this county, both now dead. She was born October 6, 1852. On September 9, 1873, she was united in marriage to Mr. John Lindsey, of this city. They lived here until they moved to Missouri on March 19, 1883. Their home has continuously been near Sturgeon. They have reared no children, but have been parents to an adopted child, now Mrs. W. E. Cason, of Missouri, since she was three years old. Mrs. Cason arrived here before her death. Mrs. Lindsey was a woman of marked sociability and intelligence and was for many years an active member of the Methodist Church, being a teacher in the Bible School and a member and president of the Women's Missionary Society. Her desire was that her body should rest in Kentucky soil made sacred as the burial place of her parents and kindred. She is survived by her brother, Lemmie Tipton, and sisters, Mesdames Maggie Young, C. W. Nesbitt and Albert Bourne, of this city, and Ed Bush, of Kansas City, Mo. To her family we extend sympathy.

One Thing Money CANNOT Do--Buy a Better Kitchen Cabinet Than the McDougall

YOU can get a kitchen cabinet made of cheap material, carelessly thrown together--made to sell.

Looks pretty good when you buy it. After a while the defects of its design show up, the wood warps, the joints open, the drawers won't work, the roaches gather, and the cabinet, instead of being a help, becomes a burden. But with the

it's entirely different. It is made of carefully selected, thoroughly seasoned wood, so that it will endure the varying temperatures of the kitchen and last a lifetime. Constructed and fitted together with accurate care, and put in place by the McDougall men, it works easily. Durable. Non-slip. Pays for itself in the supplies it saves. Guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every way. Besides the McDougall costs little or no more than the "made-to-sell" kind.

PARKER-BROWN.

On Wednesday Rev. H. G. Moody officiated at the marriage of Walker Parker and Miss Anna Brown, of the Levee.

BROWN-GROVES.

On Thursday night about 10:30 o'clock Norman D. Brown and Miss Fannie Groves, both of this city, were married in Winchester by Rev. Wm. Cummings, of that city. They left this city in McCormick's auto accompanied by Harry L. Stevenson, of our town, and Miss Lucy Clark, of Winchester. After the ceremony they continued on to Lexington. The groom is the son of Dr. John Brown, formerly of this city and Meneefee county; he is an employee in the Gazette office. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. E. Groves, and is an attractive young woman and has been a teacher in the schools of our county.

Public Sale of Property.

On Thursday, July 29, at 2 o'clock p. m., on the premises, I will sell at public auction the residence and grounds, on Howard Avenue, in Mt. Sterling, Ky., now occupied by Mrs. M. E. Waller and W. H. Miss Mary Lyle on Tuesday evening, July 20, at the home of her aunt, Miss Anna Lyle, entertained in honor of her 18th birthday. The colors were purple and gold and delightful refreshments were served. Those present were: Gazena Thomas, Nell and Carrie Vice, Lucile Hardin, Ollie Stephens, Bessie Sewell, Verner Hamilton, Emma and Hargis Montjoy, Christina Heinrich, the guest of honor, Ben Hampton Scott and Allie Hardin were the two thorns among a sweet bunch of roses.

To Cut Plate Glass.

To cut a piece of plate glass it is thought a diamond cutter is necessary, but it is not. If the glass is not very thick it can be cut with a pair of scissors, a large pair being preferable. While cutting hold the glass beneath half a foot or more of water, and it can be cut any shape desired. A round piece of glass has been cut out of a good sized pane in just this manner. The scissors do not have to be extra sharp--Success.

The Sense of Duty.

A sense of duty prevails us over. It is omnipresent like the belly. If we take to ourselves the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, duty performed or duty violated is still with us, for our happiness or our misery. If we say the darkness shall cover us, in the darkness as in the light our obligations are with us yet--Daniel Webster.

The State University

LEXINGTON, KY.

The State University, Lexington, Ky., offers the following courses, namely, Agricultural, Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mining Engineering, Classical and seven Scientific courses each of which extends over four years and leads to a Bachelor's degree; also a Department of Law and a Department of Education, which last has been established instead of the Normal School. Persons who enter this department prepare for advanced work in pedagogy and are granted a Bachelor's degree in this subject when completed. The Academy for preparatory instruction is retained.

County appointees receive free tuition, privilege of residence in the dormitories, fuel and light, traveling expenses, if they remain ten consecutive months, or one collegiate year.

The laboratories and museum are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. Military Science is fully provided for as required by Congress.

The graduates in the several courses of study readily find employment with liberal remuneration. The total number of matriculates for last year was 1078. Each department has a specialist at its head, with the necessary number of assistants.

Young women find an excellent home, with board and lodging, in Patterson Hall, which is well equipped with all the modern conveniences, bath-room, hall for physical culture, at $3.00 per week. All courses of study in the University are open to women on identical conditions with those applying to males.

The completion of the Agricultural, Mining Engineering Laboratory and Educational buildings afford ample and commodious quarters for these departments, which are rapidly increasing in the number of matriculates.

For catalogues, methods of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to

FIVE BABIES, ALONE

"A Touch Of Nature Makes All Of Us Akin"

Riding on the Grand Trunk Railway a few weeks ago from Suspension Bridge to Chicago I saw a sight so trivial that it seemed unworthy of mention.

But here is what I saw on that railroad train: Five children, the oldest a girl of 10, and the youngest a baby boy of 3. They were traveling alone, and had come from Germany, duly tagged, ticketed and certified. They were going to their grandmother at Waukegan, Ill. The old lady was to meet them in Chicago.

The children spoke not a word of English, but there is a universal language of the heart that speaks and is understood. So the trainmen and the children were on very chummy terms.

Now, at London, Ontario, our train waited an hour for the Toronto and Montreal connections. Just before we reached London I saw the conductor take the three smallest little passengers to the washroom at the end of the car, roll up their sleeves, turn their collars in and duly washed their hands and faces. Then he combed their hair. They accepted the situation as if they belonged to the conductor's family—as, of course, they did for the time being.

It was a domestic scene that caused the whole car to smile, and made everybody know everybody else.

A touch of nature makes a coach akin.

The children had a bushel basket full of eatables, but at London that conductor took the whole brood over to the dining hall for supper, and I saw two fat drummers scrap as to which should have the privilege of paying for the kiddies' supper.

After our train left London and the conductor had taken up his tickets he came back, turned over two seats and placed the cushions lengthwise. One of the trainmen borrowed a couple of blankets from the sleeping cars, and with the help of three volunteered overcoats the babies were all put to bed and duly tucked in.

I went back to my Pullman and went to bed. And as I dozed off I kept wondering whether the grandmother would be there in the morning to meet the little travelers. What sort of disaster had deprived them of their parents I did not know nor did I care to ask. The children were alone, but among friends. They were strong and well, but they kept very close together and looked to the oldest girl as a mother.

Would she come? And so I slept.

In the morning there was another conductor in charge. I went into the day coach, thinking that the man might not know about the babies and that I might possibly help the little immigrants. But my services were not needed. The little ten-year-old mother had freshened up her family, and the conductor was assuring them, in German that their grandmother would be there.

When the train pulled into the long depot and stopped the conductor took the boy baby in one arm and the little girl in the other. A porter carried the big lunch basket and the 'little mother led a toddler on each side. Evidently I was the only spectator to the play.

"Will she be there—will she be there?" I asked myself nervously. She was there, all right, there at the gate. The conductor was seemingly as gratified as I. He turned his charges over to the old woman, who was weeping for joy. And as I sat there in the bus the conductor passed by and I called to him, "I saw you help the babies."

He looked at me in doubt. "Those German children," I said, "I'm glad you were so kind to them."

"Oh," he answered, smiling,

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctor said it was incurable. I don't believe it now, for after taking three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nervine and three bottles of the Five and Ten Cent Liver Pills I am entirely cured, and feel better than I have for five years and it is all due to these remedies. I feel now as if I had a new heart, and I can do all the work I want to do. I feel as if I had a new heart, and I can do all the work I want to do. I feel as if I had a new heart, and I can do all the work I want to do."

JOHN H. SHERMAN, holding Mich. M.D. degree.
Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

course, that is a railroad man's business, you know—to help everybody who needs help." He waved his hand and disappeared up the stairway that led to the offices.

And it came to me that he had forgotten the incident so soon simply because to help had become the habit of his life. He may read this and he may not. There he was—big, bold, bluff and bronzed, his hair just touched with the frost of years, and beneath his brass buttons a heart beating with a desire to bless and benefit.

I do not know his name, but the sight of the man, carrying a child in each arm, their arms encircling his neck in perfect faith, their long journey done, and hithering them over in safety to the grandmother, was something to renew one's faith in humanity.—Elbert Hubbard in Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, O. 4t.

JOYFUL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION.

Tone up the Liver, Regulate the Bowels and be Healthy and Happy.

There are thousands and thousands of red blooded, healthy, happy people in America today that will praise the merits of Booth's Laxative Pills.

These people knew what it was to suffer from constipation with its consequences, and they know that the one remedy that removed the cause and made them happy, was Booth's Laxative Pills.

Results are sure and delightful, and you'll never go back to the old slam bang cathartics after once using Booth's Laxative Pills.

"Booth's Laxative Pills were used by me, and I found that I gained strength from them. As a tonic for the liver, stomach and bowels I would not ask for a better remedy."—Henry Van Atta, Albion, Mich.

W. S. Lloyd sells Booth's Laxative Pills for 25 cents a large box. Be sure and try them to regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Tax Reform in Kentucky.

There is a general misunderstanding among the people as to the proposed tax reform in Kentucky, which is being strongly urged by many of our leading citizens. Instead of being for the purpose of protecting capital, as is erroneously supposed by many, it is really for the purpose of making capital invested in stocks, bonds and other forms of personality pay the just proportion of the expenses of the State. Under our present constitution the very principle of equal taxation is destroyed by our tax laws, and the farm lands and other real estate pays about three-fourths of the taxes of the State, county and municipality, while the personal property, by hiding out, pays less than one-fourth, when it should pay at least one-half. Kentucky is not only driving capital out of the State by its miserable and antiquated tax laws, but it is putting most all of the burden of taxation upon the farmers who have anything in sight. Kentucky can never develop up to its possibilities until we amend the Constitution so that we can have a more equitable system of taxation. The Tax Reform Commission is laboring to that end, and seeks to have a law modeled after that in most of the progressive States. Its plan is that farmers shall pay only taxes on their farms for county purposes, and that their real estate shall be exempt from all State taxation; that the State shall derive its entire revenue from personal property and corporations, and that the real estate of cities shall only pay municipal taxes. This is practically the law in New York and Pennsylvania, and it has worked admirably. A tax reform which will reduce the burdens from real estate and bring out of hiding the hundreds of millions of personality without making the rate too heavy is tax reform that should have the support of thinking people.—Elizabethtown News.

Party Organization.
The Democratic party leaders are preparing to effect one of the strongest State organizations the party has ever had in its history. The committee which was created by the State Central Committee for the purpose of establishing and maintaining permanent headquarters and organizing the party in the State, are determined to work solely in the interest of the party and let no factionalism or any kind of ism enter into it. In a few weeks quarters will be produced in Lexington, all necessary office furniture installed, and headquarters thrown open permanently, when the matter of State organization will be taken up. The purpose of this committee is to eliminate all differences which have heretofore proven so injurious to the party in the State and organize the party as a Democratic party, keeping out all animosities which may have arisen. There will be no Beckham and anti-Beckham or any other foolish and foolhardy isms recognized by the Committee in its work. Its work will be in the interest of the Democratic party, and to that end it will bend every energy.—Somerset Journal.
